Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 12 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy, damp start Sunday but becoming drier and brighter. Mild.

Today:
A cloudy start with outbreaks of light rain and drizzle, along with hill fog across the Peak District. Becoming generally dry through the afternoon, with a few bright or sunny spells developing. Mild. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Outbreaks of mostly light rain gradually extend east to reach most places by the end of the night. Becoming rather breezy, but mild. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Monday:
Generally cloudy. Morning outbreaks of rain becoming heavier into the afternoon and evening, before clearing east from most places by midnight. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday and Wednesday often rather cloudy, some patchy light rain or drizzle, mainly for the Peak District. Mild and breezy at times. Thursday, becoming generally drier with lighter winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.